CRUSHES OUT The most loathsome and repulsive of all living things is the serpent, and the vilest and most degrading of all human diseases is Contagious Blood Poison. The serpent sinks its fangs into the flesh and almost instantly the poison passes through the entire body. Contagious Blood Poison, beginning with a little pleer, soon contaminates every drop of blood and spreads throughout the whole system. Painful swellings appear in the groins, a red rash and copper colored splotches break out on the body, the mouth and throat become ulcerated, and the hair and eye brows fall out; but these symptoms are mild compared to the wretchedness and suffering that come in the latter ges of the disease when it attacks the bones and more vital parts of the It is then that Contagious Blood Poison is seen in all its hideous The deep eating abscesses and sickening ulcers and tumors show the whole system is corrupted and poisoned, and unless relief comes soon this serpent disease tightens its coils and crushes out the life. The only antidote for the awful virus is S. S. S. It is nature's remedy, com-

Dyer to Learn Status of the Case.

Congressman, Whose Return Interests Republican Politicians, Would Not Discuss the Postmastership.

Congressman Richard Bartholdt, accom panied by Mrs. Bartholdt, returned last light from Washington. Ten days ago he and Mrs. Bartholdt reached New York stier an extended trip to Europe.

"You must excuse me from discussing olitics," sald Mr. Hartholdt at Union Staion last night, shortly after stepping from the Baltimere and Ohlo train. "I haven't seen here for some time and have traveled er half the world since I left St. Louis. "I can't discuss the St. Louis Post Office affair-who will probably succeed Mr. Baumhoff, whom I favor succeeding him. r anything about the matter. I haven't anything whatever to say about it for anything whatever to say about it for publication."

"Is it true, Mr. Bartholdt, as has been stated, that you went to United States District Attorney Dyer in the interest of Thomas E. Barrett, clerk of the St. Louis Court of Appeals, now under indictment by the Federal Grand Jury for naturalization frauds, and requested that the charge be dismissed against him."

"Emphatically, the statement is untrue and has been circulated to injure me.

"I did go to Colonel Dyer at the solicitation of some of Barrett's friends, who claimed there was absolutely no ground for the indictment, and told the District Attorney what they claimed.

"I asked what the status of the case against Barrett was. Colonel Dyer mid be had the evidence to convict him. I replied to Colonel Dyer that if such was the case I had nothing more to say, I authorized the Colonel to make any statement he saw fit about the matter.

Speaking of his recent trip to Europe, Mr. Bartholdt said.

"I made the trip principally for the benefit of Mrs. Bartholdt's health. She is, I am glad to say, much improved. While in Victima I secured, as has been published in the papers, the next meeting of the International Conference of Parilamentarians for St. Louis at some time to be selected by the World's Fair officials and myself.

"I had a conference with President Roosevelt day before yesterday, and he will embody in his message a paragraph recommending an appropriation for the entertainment of the delegates while on American soil. There will be between 500 and 600 of the most distinguished statesmen in the world present.

"The object of the organization is international arbitration for all disputes and differences between nations."

One of the most interested is Louis Kaliwasser, chairman of the Ropublican committee of the congressional district, who claims that he was promised the Post Office by Bartholdt many months ago. The appointment of Hen Westhus as Collector of the Internal Revenue has never been particularly indorred by Chairman Kaltwaiser, so that his own Federal ambitions are natural. With the Collector's office and the Post Office both coming from South Broadway housefurnishing houses there might possibly be peace in the Barthold's political family. Those who have kept posted claim that Postmaster Baumhoff has or almost has control of the congressional committee, an ephemeral entity that has almost lost all value in the eyes of practical politicians.
